

Paper Airplane Activity

1. Take out a piece of paper. DO NOT write your name.
2. On that paper, write down 5 unique things about yourself.
For example: "I have a black belt in Karate" or "I play the cello."
Avoid obvious statements such as "I have brown hair" or "I like pizza."
Then answer the following questions:
 - 1) What is your favorite activity?
 - 2) Who/what inspires you and why?
 - 3) What is a song on your playlist that describes you right now?
 - 4) If you were a superhero or villain, what would your super power be?
3. Once you've written 5 unique things on the paper and answered the four questions, fold it into a paper airplane.
4. When I give the signal, let your airplane fly. Pick up the nearest airplane and let that fly again.
5. When I say stop, pick up the nearest airplane and unfold it.
6. Read the personal facts someone wrote.
7. Now it's time to figure out whom the plane belongs to.
8. Walk around and ask different classmates yes or no questions until you find the person whose paper airplane you have. ("Do you have a black belt in Karate?" If yes, ask the next fact.)
9. Once you find the owner of your airplane, KEEP THE AIRPLANE but follow the owner around as they search for the owner of their airplane.
10. Eventually, you should be in a chain of people following the leader who still hasn't found the owner of their airplane. Once everyone has found the owner of their airplane, the game is over!
